1. Instructions and Pricelist

How to organize a tea towel project:

- Supply your students with individual pieces of white paper (size of paper will depend on the number of students) and a black medium point felt marker.
- Ask the students to draw a portrait of themselves and encourage them to make it as large as possible. Write the name of the student on the front of the artwork.
- Collect the artwork in ziplock bags with a copy of the class list to ensure that all students have been accounted for.
- Don't forget teachers, staff and class pets!
- Either include your school logo, or email it to us.
- Indicate the type of border and colour of ink you require.
- Please provide us with the number of tea towels you will be ordering. Before we proceed we will require a 50% deposit.
- Please allow 4 weeks for delivery.

2. Turn this project into a fundraiser?

Here are some selling hints:

- If possible allow enough time to pre-sell the tea towels to parents.
- Order forms with a reduced photocopy of the tea towel can be sent to each parent.
- On the order form emphasize that grandparents, uncles, aunts, family friends and even babysitters love them, that they make great gifts for Father's Day, Mother's Day, Easter, stocking stuffers for Christmas, Hanukkah, hostess gifts and year end mementos. They are inexpensive to mail. They can even be sewn into pillowcases and quilts and auctioned at school events.
- The artwork can be displayed on a school notice board, along with a sample tea towel.
- Don't forget to put notices in the school newsletter, on billboards and to make announcements at school events.
- Have class Moms phone parents to encourage orders.
- Consider offering a deal for multiple purchases.

Re: Self-Portrait Tea Towel Fundraiser

This year we are introducing a new fundraising idea. All the children in school have drawn their self-portraits, which will be silk-screened onto high quality 100% cotton washable tea towels.

You now have the opportunity to buy these “Priceless” works of art to add a little smile to your kitchen. Think of all the people who would love to receive such a personal gift and they are easy to mail. The self-portrait tea towels can be used numerous ways such as gifts for Mother’s Day, Christmas, Hanukkah or present one to your child when they move out and into their first apartment. You can also make them into pillowcases and quilts. Multiple orders can be accommodated, and the funds raised will go to worthy causes for the school.

Come and view the artwork at school and fill out your order form below. Return it to your child’s classroom teacher By Date....
